Colonial Hall at Rockafellas was formally a church, a bank and once the largest jewelry store in the country and is truly a cornerstone of Salem history. Located in the Daniel Low Building, this grand ballroom with vaulted ceilings, gleaming hardwood floors and gracious balconies is the perfect setting for your next special occasion. Let Colonial Hall with its detailed architecture and elegant chandelier set the tone for your next special occasion.

Enjoy a delicious meal prepared by our Executive Chef that your guests will not long forget. We offer a customized menu option to give your event a personal touch. Let our professional event manager assist you in coordinating all of the details of your function. We will work with you every step of the way from your first tour of the venue to the day of the event to ensure that this is truly a memorable experience.

Whether you are hosting a family gathering of 75 guests or an extravagant affair of 400, Colonial Hall's understated elegance will make any event distinctive. With our palatial ballroom, spacious balconies and two small private function rooms we are able to create an event as unique as you are.

Host your next special occasion at Colonial Hall and make it part of your history.
